

ARTS AND CULTURE MONTHLY INSPIRATION

November, 2024

To the Arts and Culture Chair, just in case you need a little inspiration today...

"Culture is the Arts elevated to a set of beliefs"

This quote reflects Thomas Wolfe's belief that culture is not just about artistic expressions like music, painting, or literature but that these artistic elements become deeply ingrained in a community's shared values, ideas, and worldviews.

NOVEMBER SUGGESTIONS

Celebrate Native American Heritage Month by reading books and watching documentaries, attend cultural events and encourage members to volunteer with local Native American organizations

November 1 is National Authors Day. Buy a book from a new author or share your favorite novels online with #NationalAuthorsDay!

November 9 is go to an Art Museum Day. Gather a group of members and spend the day at a local Art museum/ Atlanta has some of the most famous museums!

November 11 is Origami Day. Join an online Origami forum or group. If you do Origami teach a class to your members. Read about the history of origami and Japanese Art and culture.

CONTEST DEADLINES ARE APPROACHING

Attached Are flyers for the student art and member craft contests that you can share with your members to help them get excited to participate.

GFWC Georgia Northwest District
Arts and Culture Co-Chairmen:

Karen Clydesdale, karenclydesdale@bellsouth.net
Joyce Broughton, jmdbro49@gmail.com